Announce Date For Christmas Party

Routine Meeting For City Council

The Daly City Council met on Monday night, December 10, at City Hall, convening at 8:25 o'clock.

The council voted to contribute the sum of $25 to the County Tuberculosis Association fund this winter; and to invest $25,000 in Victory Loan bonds.

Band Director Brenner, in a communication to the council, deplored the unsanitary conditions prevalent at No. 5 firehouse where his boys rehearse. He requested that some action be taken to make the band meeting place a decent one in which to hold rehearsals and other gatherings.

It was reported that 112 sanitary inspections have been made and 30 complaints investigated by city officials during the period just past.

The Serviceman's Club Committee, through the medium of the council, expressed their sincere thanks to all in the community who have supported the project since its inception, and to the owners of the building for their generosity in the matter of rental.

Various other routine matters were discussed and referred to proper committees for future action.

Fire Chief Issues Holiday Warning

Fire Chief A. P. Chesney, of the Daly City Fire Department, has requested publication at this time, of the following holiday safety tips:

"The Daly City Fire Department would like to call the attention of residents to the fire hazards that could be the means of turning your Christmas festivities into a tragedy.

"1. Place your tree away from open fires, curtains, and draperies. Have the tree well braced; do not use trimmings unless they have been fire-proofed; do not hang celluloid ornaments near light globes.

"2. Be careful of smoking around the packing in gift boxes.

"3. Do not use candles on your tree.

"4. Check up on your electrical cords, and do not use cheap electrical equipment.

"5. Remove trees as soon after Christmas as possible, as they are inflammable when dry."

Local Lions Saw Vital War Movie

On Wednesday, December 12, the Daly City-Colma Lions Club held their regular meeting at Estrada's in Colma at noon.

Mr. R. T. Crane, jr., acted as chairman of the program which included the presentation of a motion picture entitled "War Comes To America."

Next Wednesday, December 19, Stanford Hannah will be in charge of the annual Christmas luncheon. The program will consist of Christmas music by the high school choir, directed by John McCarthy; and a radio skit by the public speaking class under direction of Adolph Hansen.

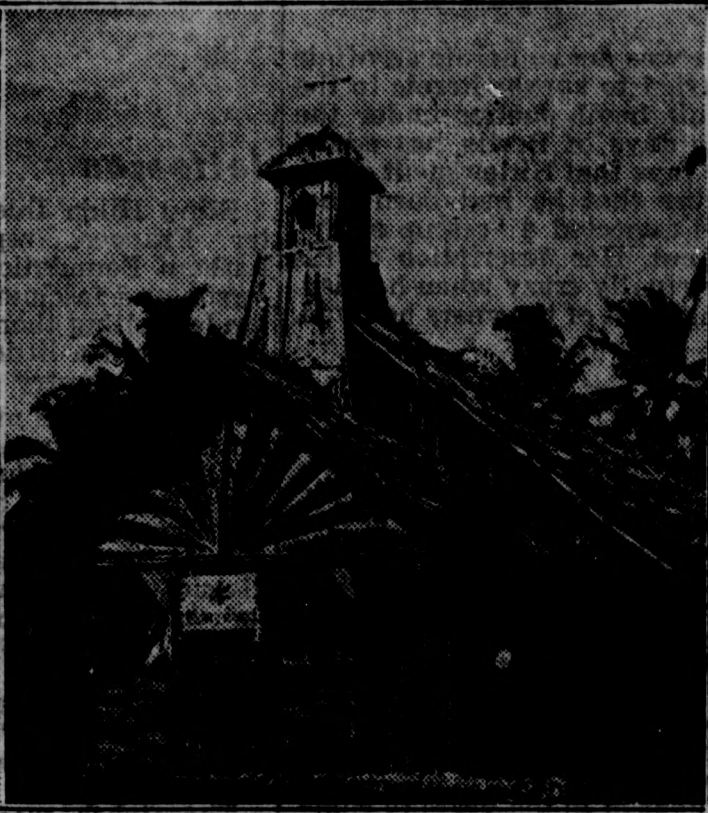

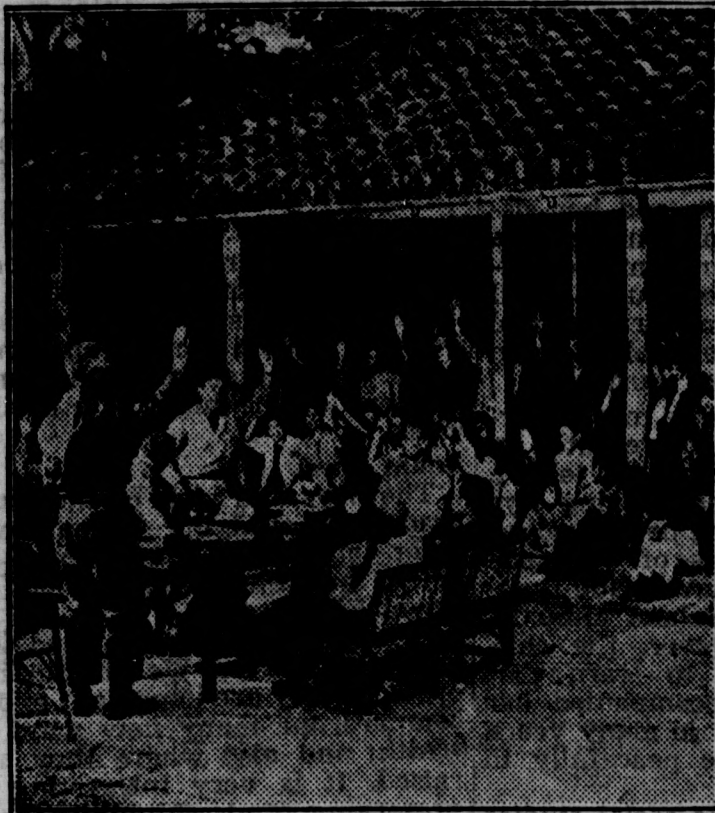

CHRISTMAS MAILING NOW

If you haven't done your Christmas mailing yet, please do it at once. Postoffices throughout the country are handling one of the biggest volumes of Christmas mail in history and are doing it with greatly undermanned staffs. Thousands of postal employees are still in the armed services.

What is more, the Nation's transportation is still jammed by the homeward rush of veterans. As a result the transport system is going to be hard pressed to handle the deluge of packages and cards.

Here are a few suggestions as to how you can help: 1. Mail all Christmas packages and cards at once. 2. Be sure the address is complete and correct, including the return address. 3. Wrap packages securely.

If you do these things you will help the postman and also ensure the arrival of your Christmas mail by December 25.

Released by U. S. War Department, Bureau of Public Relations.

U. S. ARMY CHAPLAINS ARE SUCCESSFUL MISSIONARIES—Long after American soldiers depart from overseas combat theaters shrines to their religious devotion will remain in distant lands. Scores of wartime chapels will stand as monuments to the faith of the GI, and even now are used for worship by the native population. Left, Chaplain Roy N. Hillyer, of the Tenth Army, holds a special service for Okinawans who desire to become Christians. Right, Victory chapel in the South Pacific constructed of bamboo by men of an engineer battalion. Natives thatched the roof. Services were held by Chaplain Joseph W. Buckley.

Clyde H. Ramsey Discharged By Army

Sgt. Clyde H. Ramsey, 445 Winchester street, husband of Carmel Ramsey, returned Sunday, December 9, aboard the USS Latimer. He spent a total of three years in the service, 22 months of which were in overseas duty. Attached to the U. S. Army Airways Communications System, Ramsey is now at Camp Beale, Marysville, California, awaiting discharge.

When his boat docked at San Francisco, awaiting their father's arrival were his twin sons, Michael and Timothy aged 14 months. "Formal introductions" were in order as this was his first glimpse of the boys.

Legion Auxiliary Christmas Plans

On December 19, the executive board of the American Legion Auxiliary will meet in Legion hall for the purpose of transacting routine business, and later will enjoy a Christmas gift exchange. At that time plans will be completed for the annual party for legion and auxiliary.

The children's party is scheduled for December 22, at 8 p. m.

Jefferson PTA Board Meeting

At the regular board meeting of the Jefferson Parent-Teacher association this week, held in the home of Mrs. Foreman, a delicious luncheon preceded the routine business session. Co-hostesses for the day were Mrs. Mary Crane and Mrs. Mildred McGeein. Christmas gifts were exchanged during the afternoon which was highlighted with jolly holiday greetings and social chat.

There will be no regular meeting during the remainder of December and all of January, but the executive board will convene again on January 3, 1946.

Dr. Claude Shull Spoke On Movies At Burlingame

Dr. Claude Archer Shull, professor of accounting and speech at the San Francisco Junior college, was the main speaker at the December meeting of Seventeenth District CCPT held in the Little Theatre of Burlingame high school, December 13.

Dr. Shull, for six years president of the San Francisco Motion Picture council, and chairman of the National Motion Picture Research council, has pursued the study of the social implications of motion pictures for 20 years. He has written many articles on motion pictures and their influence, including his doctor's dissertation at Stanford university. His topic was "Where Do Movies Fit Into the Postwar Picture?"

Public welfare in all its phases was presented by that department with Mrs. Raymond Ellis, director in charge of the program. Edwin S. Moore, manager of the public relations department of the California State Automobile association spoke on "Safe Travel."

Christmas carols, sung by Miss June Connor and accompanied by Mrs. Frederick Duerr, preceded the community singing.

Rev. Albert Pickthron, Assembly of God church, gave the character thought for the day. The meeting adjourned at 1 p. m.

Crocker Bazaar Really Successful

Mrs. Ruth Morris, of the Crocker School PTA, reported that the recent successful bazaar netted the organization over $300. Mrs. Eva Hobbs wishes, through this medium, to express her sincere thanks to all who participated.

The regular meeting of the group was held on Tuesday, December 11, at 1:45 p. m. Mrs. Virginia Davidson was appointed delegate to the district meeting held in Burlingame on Thursday, December 13. She will report at a later meeting.

A pot-luck luncheon is planned for December 18, to be followed by an exchange of Christmas gifts among the membership. Mrs. Mildred Seiler will be hostess on this occasion, in her home at 663 Evergreen street.

Plans are being considered, in committee, for the annual Christmas party to be held on December 21.

Grace Presbyterian Christmas Programs

The Christmas season will be fittingly observed at Grace Presbyterian church, Evergreen and Hanover streets, on Sunday, December 16, at 11 a. m.

The Vesper Choir will sing "Sabbath Bells," and Miss Ruth Warm, soloist, will sing "Gesu, Bambino." At 7 p. m. the motion picture, "We, Too, Are Americans" will be shown.

The Sunday school plans to present departmental Christmas programs to which the parents and friends are cordially invited.

Thursday, December 20 at 4 p. m. the primary department will dramatize "Silent Night." Mrs. J. Van Valkenberg, Mrs. William Shreve, Mrs. Duncan Ross, Mrs. J. J. Smith, will be in charge.

Friday December 21, the beginners department will present "Away in the Manger" with Mrs. William Coulthard, Mrs. David Adam, and Mrs. John Emerson in charge of the program and the party which will follow.

First Anniversary For Twin Cleaners

The Twin Cleaners, located at 6748 Mission street, are this month celebrating their first anniversary in Daly City. For 14 years prior to locating here, the Anderson Twin Cleaners was situated at 400 Waller street, San Francisco.

Managed by Alma Lee Anderson, and operated by "The Anderson Twins," Mrs. Henry Blair, 231 Sagamore street, and Mrs. Earl Lefebvre, 233 Sagamore street, this establishment is rapidly becoming noted for its painstaking care of all types of wearing apparel.

Walter F. Hughes Discharged In Texas

Walter F. Hughes, son of Mrs. Elaine Hughes, 153 Alexander avenue received his honorable discharge from the Army Air Corps at Sheppard Field, Texas, October 30.

He and a buddy then took a ten day plane trip to Florida and New York.

Walter returned home on November 8, and is now engaged in work as a teletype technician for Western Union in San Francisco.

Tickets will soon be distributed to public and parochial school children of this community for the annual Christmas theatre party. Made possible by the generosity of J. W. Marchbanks, these jolly holiday parties and special shows have been customary here in Daly City for many years, and are keenly anticipated by the fun-loving youngsters of this area.

To be held on Monday, December 24, the program will include an assortment of the most exciting and amusing features and cartoons Art Kloth, theatre manager, can possibly locate. A community sing will also be featured.

All arrangements for the affair are in the capable hands of Mrs. Anne Eason and Mrs. Masie Boyle, of the Daly City Recreation Committee. These ladies are well acquainted with all the features of a really successful party, and promise the children of the city a truly festive affair from start to finish.

Through the co-operation of the City Council, each child will be given a generous gift of candy to munch during the show . . . or take home to his own tree, if his will-power is strong enough! The membership of the Women's Civic Club will be on hand to distribute the candies, and . . . very best of all . . . Santa Claus himself has arranged to make a special personal appearance on the stage of the Daly City Theatre as a fitting climax to the "best party of the year!"

Six Local Men Pass Physicals

Pre-Induction physical examinations were passed by six local men on December 5, according to a report issued this week by Mrs. Isabelle Lynch of the local selective service board.

The board office will be closed from December 22, through Christmas day, and again from December 30, through January 1, 1946. It will, however, be open on December 29 and January 5.

The retirement of Commander F. Edward Walker, coordinator of district No. 2, due to his discharge from the service, and his immediate replacement by Lt. Col. Howard P. Witten, was announced also by Mrs. Flynn, who reported that the farewell dinner party, on Wednesday night at Kubla Khan cafe, was a most impressive and enjoyable affair. Also present were Dr. McGovern and Fred Collins.

NOT SO HEROIC

The unlamented death of Adolf Hitler was not so heroic an affair as one would expect from the man who tried to appear heroic to the world. A German aviator who was in his bomb shelter under the Reichschancellery during the last frantic days of Berlin has added further detail to the picture of the Führer's finale. She says that Hitler spent much of the time in the bunker babbling charging that he had been "betrayed" by Goering and that he expected a "rescue army" to reach Berlin and drive the Russians out. Her description of his final hours leaves no doubt that he was virtually crazy when he died. Most of us thought that way during most of the years he lived.

DECEMBER 15, REMEMBER

To most of us December 15 is just another date on the calendar—about eight shopping days before Christmas. But back in the 20's it was the date when the installment payments on the war debts were made. One by one, however, the European countries got tired of paying even the interest and after a while all but Finland conveniently forgot the whole matter. Now approximately 12 years after those memory lapses we are back doing business with our debtors at the same old stand. If Congress approves, Britain will get a cash loan of $3½ billion. Her lend-lease bill of $25 billion will be entirely written off with the exception of $650 million. The action on lend-lease was generally expected since it was pretty well understood from the first that we were not going to press for repayment. As to the new loan, however, Secretary of State Byrnes emphasized that it is not a "gift or a grant." We hope this fact is not lost sight of in the years to come. The point is that America is willing to make the loan but we can hardly afford to continue to give money away.

A BUSINESS OF YOUR OWN?

Thousand of veterans now being discharged are anxious to get into a business of their own. Many of them, however, are not aware of the problems they must solve both before and after starting an enterprise.

A pamphlet put out by the U. S. Department of Commerce designed to acquaint them with some of these problems raises questions such as these: Have you had previous experience in this type of business? Do you like to deal with people? Are you willing to work long hours? Have you considered working for someone else to get more experience?

The pamphlet also points out the need for adequate financial backing, proper location of the business, especially if it is a store, the danger of entering a field already over-crowded, and the advisability of consulting local businessmen in non-competing lines as to the need for the kind of enterprise contemplated.

There is need for many new businesses in America today, particularly in the West, but veterans will be wise to study thoroughly the fields they want to enter before launching out on their own.

Careful forethought will aid success and prevent disillusionment.

BILL OF RIGHTS

December 15 marks the 154th anniversary of the adoption of the Bill of Rights, those mighty first ten amendments to the Constitution which, through the years of trouble and turmoil, have assured to America freedom of the press and to every citizen, however great or humble, the right to think, speak and worship as a free man.

But we must remember that these liberties are not in themselves permanent. They can endure only so long as we cherish and defend them unceasingly. Democracy does not exist magically in space. It is linked to the practical reality of our lives—our homes, businesses, churches and schools.

Therefore, we must live democracy if we want democracy to live. We cannot indulge in, or permit, tyrannical and abusive conduct toward any group of Americans because we don't like their color or their nationality, and at the same time expect that our rights under the Constitution will be protected. Every time we attempt to put some other person's rights in jeopardy, we jeopardize our own.

A quarter of a million of America's finest young men made the supreme sacrifice in the last few years to crush international hoodlumism and establish a sense of decency in the world. It would be ironic indeed if, after that sacrifice, race or class hatred were to become rampant right here in our own country.

Today the Bill of Rights stands as a beacon light to the world indicating that justice, freedom and equality are the only basis for a lasting peace. Let us keep that light burning brightly within our hearts for that is the only place where it can endure.

News From The Grammar Schools

Jefferson

Blind Hilda Ihles, and her sister Frances, representing the Latham Foundation came to Jefferson and fascinated pupils of all grades telling them a true animal story about a little Koala bear in the bush country of Australia.

The story was made more interesting by illustration presented by the story board during the telling. Miss Ihles, and her Seeing Eye dog Erna, have long been familiar figures to students of Jefferson district, for they have made regular visits to the school annually.

This year, however, the children were sorry to learn that Erna who had accompanied her blind mistress for so many years, had recently gone peacefully to her final sleep.

The eighth grade social studies unit, "Living in the San Francisco Bay Area," which has occupied the class since the beginning of the semester was concluded this week with a program, dramatizing the highlights of the unit. Colorful characterizations represented the Indians as the first residents of California; the early explorers, missionaries, first Spaniards, gold miners, stage coach drivers were some of the other characters in early California history whose parts were played by members of the class. The story unfolded through the different periods and climaxed with the Bay Area as we know it today.

The program was introduced by Dorothy Olcese. Carol Donaldson and Betty Welp explained the purpose of the unit after which the program was turned over to Angelo Gianni who acted as master of ceremonies. Other eighth graders who took part were Theresa Ferrari, Robert Griffin, Joseph Rose, Louis Ragio, Harold Varni, Jimmy Grazianni, Gene Freese, Joseph Lunghi, Edward Rose, Velm Rossi, Angelo Giacchino, Robert Williams, June Gianni, Raymond Scocca, Emile Wilmoth, Shirley Van Vliet, Emily Schurba and Catherine Biancalana.

Woodrow Wilson

The outstanding event of the week at the Woodrow Wilson Elementary school will be a three day Victory Bond campaign. Each school has been given a quota of one $25 bond for each student enrolled. A special Treasury department citation will go to the school attaining its quota. The Woodrow Wilson student body is earnestly working toward that goal.

Room Four

The important of Inter-American trade became quite evident upon viewing a film entitled "Central America." The process of obtaining such commodities as coffee, cocoa, bananas and mahogany were shown. That these countries need machinery to improve conditions was apparent because modern transportation facilities are almost non-existent.

Room 12

The pupils of room 12 have been working hard in anticipation of the report cards to be issued this week. A motion picture on rayon to go with the social studies unit was one of the highlights of the week.

Room Nine

The boys and girls of the sixth grade are studying the modern train and the convenience it makes possible to our nation.

Room Eight

In room eight we are studying about vegetables. We are finding out why they are important to our health; and also where they are raised. It is very interesting to preserving and shipping them, compared with the old methods used many years ago.

Room 14

During social studies the children in room 14 are now learning where the early visitors in California came from; and why these people came to California. The answers to these and similar questions are very interesting.

Room 15

In connection with their unit on "Textiles," the children in room 15 saw a very interesting sound film on rayon. The film was educational in that it showed all the processes used in the making of this fabric.

Crocker

Geraldine McAllen, of the low sixth, returned to school this week after a brief illness.

This week the sixth graders began a study of famous ships. Among those studied were the Santa Maria, the Half Moon, and the Flying Cloud, most famous of all clipper ships.

Last week the seventh grade enjoyed films about the "Lure of the Andes," and "Central America." During the third month of school there were 11 students claiming perfect attendance.

The high seventh and low eighth have finished their unit on "Travel by Air." A new and interesting unit entitled "The United States Trades with the World," promises to be very interesting.

Lipstick Secret

The secret of applying lipstick so that it will stay fresh is to let it "set" for a few minutes, then blot with tissue.

Troopship Arrival
News Available Now

The public is reminded by San Francisco Port of Embarkation that the Army Information Center, West 6111, Local 3535, is the central office for all information about army personnel and troop ships returning from the Pacific. Calls made to other offices of the port have to be transferred to Local 3535, and much time is lost to the office and the caller thereby.

The information center, set up by Major General Homer M. Groninger in October, has complete and up-to-the-minute information regarding ships carrying passengers to West Coast ports and army and returning units from the Pacific. It has no facilities for locating individual servicemen, nor has any other army office here or elsewhere on the Pacific Coast. Nor is information available on the West Coast regarding troop or ship movements from Europe to the Atlantic Coast.

Families having servicemen in the Pacific should advise the soldiers to let them know the name of the ship on which he is sailing. In that way, and only that way, can the Army Information Center help the family locate the time and place of debarkation.

Professional Education

Philanthropic contributors or the state pay more than half the cost of the professional student's education.

Fire Hazards

Eight major fire hazards include: smoking and matches; electrical sparks on combustible roofs; defective chimneys; defective heating equipment; rubbish and spontaneous ignition; lightning; and flammable liquids.

Farm Rejectees

Farm youth, 18 and 19 years old, showed the highest rejection rate of any group in selective service for physical, mental and educational defects.

Blow Straw Under

Burning straw or stubble is not practiced generally, as in the old days. Modern farm operators have learned that it's more profitable to plow under. Burning results in a definite loss of nitrogen and valuable organic matter.

Route Dirt

A wet cloth dampened with gasoline will make the dirt disappear as if by magic when used for porcelain sinks, bathtubs or marble wash bowls.

WILL THERE BE A STEEL STRIKE?

Not if the CIO abides by its pledged word, given only last spring

Question: What would be the general effect on the country of a steel strike?

Answer: Over 40 per cent of all the factory workers in the country earn their living by making steel into useful products for American life. A shut-down of the steel industry would be a disastrous blow to reconversion and would cause a serious loss in both wages and industrial production at a time when they were most needed.

Question: Is it true that the Steelworkers Union has pledged itself not to strike?

Answer: Yes. Every contract which the Union has signed this year with the various steel companies has a clause wherein the Union agrees not to strike during the life of the contract.

Question: Are those contracts still in effect?

Answer: Yes. They were signed in the spring of 1945 to run until October, 1946.

Question: Who signed for the Union?

Answer: Its international officials—Philip Murray, Van Bittner, Clinton Golden and others—and the local Union heads at the various plants.

Question: Is there no "escape clause" by which either side could end the agreements?

Answer: No. The Union demanded a fixed, long-term contract and got it.

Question: Why did they want a long-term contract?

Answer: In the Union's own words before the War Labor Board, "The Union's request for a termination date of October, 1946, is not made capriciously or pressed here for bargaining purposes. It represents the considered view of the Union that only such a term will adequately serve the needs of stability."

Question: Did the recent strike vote violate the contracts?

Answer: No. Only an actual strike would violate them.

Question: Haven't there been strikes already during the life of the contracts?

Answer: Yes. There were 998 strikes in steel plants during the past year alone. They were mostly local strikes which the Union characterizes as "wildcat," but they meant a big loss in production.

Question: Does the end of the war justify changing the contracts?

Answer: No. The bond was sealed on both sides and should be kept whether times be good or bad. The steel companies are continuing to live up to these agreements. If a strike is called, it will be in clear violation of the existing contracts.

A strike in the face of existing contracts would shatter any confidence in the validity of union agreements in the steel industry.

According to a delayed dispatch from a Navy Public Relations bureau, the Record is informed that Murray E. Caldwell, MoMM3/c, USNR, husband of Mrs. A. J. Additional service information on Robert H. Smith, ship's cook, second class, USNR, states that he served on the USS Bennington which arrived in San Francisco in November. As a member of task group 58, the "Busy B" participated in the first carrier strikes against Japan.

Funeral Service For Infant Son

Funeral services were held on Saturday, December 8, for the infant son of Sylvio and Grace Prata, 146 Parkview, from Lasswell's Mortuary.

The baby, which was born on December 7, and lived but a few hours, had been named Ray Louis Prata. His grandmothers are Mrs. Angelina Prata, of Colma, and Mrs. Mary Giomi, of Daly City.

Burial was at Olivet Memorial Park.

Bath Towels

Bath towels should be selected with care. Absorbency depends on the amount of pile or looped surface a towel has. For the best wear and satisfactory use, loops about one-eighth inch long are considered best.

Pillow Ticking

When making feather pillow ticking if you sew about two inches back from the end you will have a flap that you can fasten clothes pins on when you hang the pillows on the clothes line for sunning.

Van Kirk-Thomas Nuptials Recently

Now honeymooning at Long Barn Lodge are Mr. and Mrs. Merle Van Kirk, whose recent marriage was of interest to a wide circle of friends in and around Daly City.

The impressive double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Merlin C. Donaldson, of Red Bluffs, California, under a flower covered arch in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Thomas, 354 Mendocino avenue, Brisbane, California.

The bride wore a gold colored suit and carried a white prayer-book, with a corsage of bouvardia and carnations, with matching flowers and ribbons in her hair. She was attended by her sister, Miss Genevieve Thomas, who wore a brown suit, and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The groom was attired in the uniform of the United States Marine Corps, and was attended by his brother, John Van Kirk, as best man.

The bride's father, Floyd Thomas, gave her in marriage. Her bouquet was caught by Miss Colleen Robin, fiancée of Donald E. Van Kirk.

Serve Vegetables Quickly

When you serve vegetables raw, use them as soon as possible after you buy them or bring them in from your garden. Keep them cool as possible until they are used. Wash them just before you use them and never let them soak in water. Prepare chopped vegetable salads just before you serve them. You can lose a lot of vitamin C if you chop up vegetables fine and then let them stand a while before you eat them.

Sweet Peppers

Gardeners who want to get the most in vitamin value from their sweet peppers will pick them red instead of green. Tests show that peppers increase in carotene (forerunner of vitamin A) and ascorbic acid (vitamin C) as they turn red.

Following the ceremony, a beautiful reception was held, at which time the newly-weds cut a delicious tiered wedding cake.

Both young people attended and graduated from Jefferson Union high school, Daly City. They will make their home at Mare Island until Mr. Van Kirk receives his discharge from the marine corps.

NOTES FROM JEFF HI

By Hazel Hendrickson

Last Football Game of the Season

The last game of the season was played in Lincoln School stadium at San Jose, Friday, November 30.

Although they were minus four of their first string players for various reasons, the Indians played a hard game until the final gun sounded.

Harold Tikkanen was the man who was missed the most. Tikk is the mainspring of our passing offense; his accurate passes have gained yardage against every opposing team. He had been injured in an auto accident and was unable to play.

Starting lineup: Mossi, Odel, Milano, Rutherford Janssen, Statton, Tromborg, Grimes, Seiler, Delfino and Aggesti.

Lincoln's senior varsity started the game. They received the kickoff and ran it back to their own 20 yard line. Jeff's forward wall stopped three attempts for a first down, and then the Lions opened up with a pass attack that scored three touchdowns to Jefferson's one.

In the second half, the second and third strings of both teams had a taste of game experience. Jeff scored another touchdown and the Lion scored. Our boys who made the tallies were: Seiler and Tromborg.

The Lions' team and student body should be congratulated on the fine spirit displayed on the field and in the school building.

Basketball

Thursday, November 29, playing their first game, the 130 and Varsity basketball teams both tasted defeat. The game was played with Lincoln of San Francisco, but you cannot judge the teams by this, since they had only a few days of organized practice prior to the game.

For the first time in some years, we have a separate coach for each team. Coach Rose directs the 130's and Coach Kamm, the Varsity team. Both teams looked fairly good Thursday, during the game. The league games will not start until some time in January, but there will be a number of practice games played between then and now.

This year we will play what is called "Round Robin." That means that instead of the P.A.L. being divided into a northern and a southern division, as it was during the war, because transportation was lacking, each team will play another in the whole P.A.L. only once. Previously each team in the northern division had to play each team in the northern division twice, and the same was true of the southern division. The winner of the southern division played the winner of the northern division for the championship.

Bobby Sox Pass In Review

When a teen-ager starts getting frisky with a pair of shears and has a new hair style in mind, just look out. Bangs are evened, top notches are chopped, and bangs are evened all over again. Finally the whole snipping job turns into a slitzie hair cut and mirror morale hits zero. First there's a repair job with bobby pins and hair goo, and then a confab with sister sub-deb for morale support. Ask Ann Whorley; she knows.

Nail polish seems to be very useful to the sub-deb. Besides using it on their nails, it is also used for monogramming white plastic combs. Notice . . .

Did you check the basketball players' new satin jackets at the game last week? The jackets are made in school colors with INDIANS written in gold across the back. In the lower corner of the jacket front, it reads JUHS and shows the player's number.

Cap sleeves seem to be the favorite with the girls either in summer or winter. The dress of the week was worn by L. Oberg. The dress is a red one with cap daisies embroidered across the sleeves with a row of white shoulders. I wonder what sub-deb will be wearing the next "dress of the week."

Radio Skit Given by Ia's

Miss Shoemaker's 1a English class gave an interesting program in the Little Theatre, Thursday, December 6, during period 2. Nearly all of them took reading parts in a radio skit, "Hand Brinker of the Silver Skates."

This was their first stage experience, and they did a nice piece of work. The leads in the cast were: Father, John Kapor; Mother, Gwen Hallas; Gretta, Shirley Peterson; Hans, Wally Gull.

Miss Nelson's second period 1b English class were the well-pleased guests.

Jefferson Goes Over Bond Quota

Let's give 15 rahs for JUHS. We've gone over our Bond Drive quota of $10,000 to the total of $10,265.45. Stamp sales have helped. We made the 90 per cent rating for November and won the Treasury Flag. The goal for this month of December is to make 90 per cent to keep the Treasury Flag and fly it.

A school dance was enjoyed Thursday afternoon, December 6, to celebrate the success of the drive.

Hi-Ya Joe

A most hearty welcome home is given to—Lieutenant Joe Becker who arrived home to spend 30 days with his family and friends after being overseas. He will report to the Navy on December 25.

Santa A Myth!

I suppose Santa Claus is just a myth to some; that is for them to decide. As far as Christmas is concerned, Santa is not really a myth but a living character who exists as love, generosity, and devotion. He is the hope of happiness for the younger folk and a dream of kindness that dwells in the hearts of us all.

Jefferson's library contains many books that express the spirit of Christmas in many ways. Here are a few of them: "The First Christmas Tree," by H. Van Dyke in Mikets "Short Stories for English Career," "The Story of the Other Wise Men," by H. Van Dyke, which is in Lymans "Literature and Living," and "The Birds' Christmas Carol," by Kate Douglas Wiggin, which is written in a clever and humorous way.

All of us know "A Christmas Carol," by Charles Dickens, which proves that people can have a happy Christmas in spite of adverse conditions.

"The Gift of the Magi," by O. Henry, relates the old, old story that two people in love and without funds, will find a way to remember each other.

"Notes Off the Cuff"

By Phil Smith

Don't let anybody kid you, sailors . . . some sailors that is, are real people.

One night about a month ago, a group of young boys in Navy blue dropped in at "Quickie's" for a late snack. They ordered generously, and "Mom" Quickert fed them well.

When it came time to pay the bill, however, the lad with the bankroll took a powder on his companions who found, upon checking their collective finances, that they lacked thirty cents of enough to settle the account.

Concerned over their transportation back to base, "Mom" insisted that they forget the bill until some more convenient time. This the sailors refused to do. They turned over to her all the money they could rake up, and swore they would be back someday to make it right with her. They were due to ship out the next morning.

A few days ago, the same group reappeared at "Quickies," this time with other shipmates in tow. Again they ate their fill, chatted with the Quickert family, and passed a pleasant couple of hours during the evening.

This time they paid the bill, plus a generous tip . . . and departed singing praises of the grand treatment they had received at the popular eating place.

These representative Navy boys reflect a great credit on all men of the armed forces in our country . . . gentlemen of whom we, and Uncle Sam may well be proud.

My sincere thanks to the three ladies of the community, mothers of "teen-agers," who phoned this week to discuss local conditions with me. This is to let them know that their suggestions are being given serious consideration; and that the matter they particularly mentioned is now under investigation.

I welcome suggestions, and will be glad to receive letters or telephone calls at any time. Any letters offering constructive and practical ideas will be published . . . in part at least. Names will be withheld, at the writer's request, but unsigned communications will go into the wastebasket.

The series on delinquency, mentioned in last week's column, is to start shortly after the first of the year.

A feeling of nostalgia sweeps over me about this time every year, when I think back to a little town where I once lived, and in which I had a great deal of fun during my "teen-age" years.

Every Christmas the various civic groups, in collaboration with church organizations, sponsored a huge celebration about five nights before Noel. There was always a gigantic tree . . . beautifully decorated by the American Legion and Fire Department boys. It usually stood in an intersection in the heart of the town. The streets for several blocks around were gayly lighted with strings of colored lanterns, wound with greenery and toyon berries.

Each child was welcomed to the "square" by Santa Claus, impersonated by different club officials in turn during the years. There were carols; and band music to which all were invited to dance in an area roped off for that purpose.

There were crates of luscious oranges and dozens of boxes piled high with big juicy, red apples free for the taking. The ladies of the community spent many an evening, following Thanksgiving each year, in making bright red and green stockings which were filled with mouth-watering candies, and little noise makers so dear to children's hearts. The local merchants pro-rated their Christmas candy supplies, and contributed as generously as they possibly could out of their respective quotas. In some instances even the large manufacturing concerns donated to the cause as well.

For days preceeding the evening of the big party, there was little else talked about at school during recesses and even in classes . . . when teacher wasn't too watchful.

Those, I guess, were part of what is often termed "the good old days."

It happened one night in San Francisco.

Two marines, both slightly unsteady on their feet . . . but very cheerful about it all, walked up to the driver of a Chinatown tour bus near Sixth and Market, and asked him quite seriously what he would charge to take them to San Diego?

He explained that such a trip was just a little out of his line, and told them to inquire at the Greyhound station.

Whereupon, the marines replied . . . "Nev'mind, pal, we're jus' shoppin' round . . . Merry Christmas!"

The Muni bus pulled up to the curb near a tavern down in the Mission district Sunday night.

All was peaceful enough until the two gentlemen with a six foot Christmas tree between them, ambled a bit uncertainly across the sidewalk and up to the front of the vehicle.

"Shay, driver, ish it OK if I take thish tree to my little daughter?" queried one of the men, almost tearfully.

All of us had visions of a little curly-haired angel, sitting at home waiting wistfully for her Christmas tree.

"Well, replied the driver, I guess it will be all right . . . hop in."

The men didn't exactly "hop" . . . they were incapable of anything faster than slow motion about that time. But they managed to crowd the wooden stand through the doorway, and then started to push and shove the tree down the narrow aisle.

The fact that, in their progress towards the rear of the car, they brushed make-up off women's faces, and hats off of men's heads, didn't deter them in the least.

Finally the bus got underway, and had gone just four blocks when the stop-bell rang.

The gentlemen had, it seemed, reached their destination.

Then the fun really began.

The wooden stand had gotten wedged under a seat so tightly that when the men tried to release it, all they succeeded in doing was tear about two feet out of the top of what had once been a beautiful tree.

Very nervous, and exceedingly apologetic by this time, they carried the remains of the tree back through the bus . . . a nerve-racking repeat performance to say the least . . . and when last seen were standing on the corner trying to make the top of the

New Power Lines Erected By PG&E Near Shasta Station

Construction of a third 220,000-volt transmission line to bring additional electric power from Shasta County generating sources to the San Francisco Bay Area was announced today by James B. Black, president of Pacific Gas and Electric Company. Cost of the improvement will be approximately $6,000,000.

The company now operates two steel-tower lines from Shasta substation to Vaca-Dixon substation in Solano county for transmission of power from the five hydroelectric plants of its Pitt River system. Shasta substation is 25 miles south of the Central Valley project's Shasta Dam and powerhouse. The new steel-tower line will be built on a vacant right-of-way already owned by the company between Shasta and Vaca-Dixon substations. From the latter point south, a new 220,000-volt circuit will be added on tower lines already in use to transmit the power to Contra Costa substation and from there to the large substation at Newark at the lower end of San Francisco Bay.

Construction materials and equipment to cost about $4,000,000 have been ordered for the new line and work on the project already is under way. It is expected to be completed in the latter part of 1946.

Significance of the new line lies in the fact that with the added facilities the utility company will be able to transmit the electric power produced at the Shasta Dam plant of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation for a total capital cost far less than the bureau proposed to spend for the same purpose.

Auto Club Releases News For Ski Enthusiasts

The following information is released by the touring department of the National Automobile Club:

The weather man favored ski enthusiasts with 38 inches of snow at Badger Pass during the week, making the opening of the ski lodge and tow an anticipated event for the middle of the month. About 100 cars were at Badger last Sunday.

At Giant Forest in Sequoia National Park, there is 22 inches of snow this week with some skiing. Skating had been good until the last storm which made it necessary to clear the snow from the rink before skating could resume.

The recent storm left 8 inches of snow on the highway in Sequoia National Park, but this is being removed by plows and, with no further storm, cars can get through without chains. However, motorists are cautioned, it is always wise to carry them.

State Route 41—Fresno to Yosemite—snow plows were clearing the 10 to 12 inches of snow from the highway Wednesday, December 5, and barring further storms, cars can get through without chains, but are advised to carry them. The road to Big Trees was closed December 6, but plows were scheduled to clear the road as far as Grizzly Giant as soon as possible.

The all year highway was reported open to traffic without

Tule Lake Camp To Close Soon, Japs Get Release

Dillon S. Myer, national director of the War Relocation Authority, today announced that the war-time agency, set up under presidential order to handle relocation of all persons of Japanese ancestry ordered evacuated from the West Coast by the military early in 1942, will complete its work within the next six months.

Said Mr. Myer: "Only Tule Lake remains open at this time. The other eight relocation centers have been closed and the residents relocated, at least to temporary homes. The last center to close was Rohwer at McGehee, Arkansas. It closed November 30, 15 days ahead of schedule.

"Tule Lake is scheduled to close no later than February 1. By that time we expect to have resettled those residents who are eligible to relocate and who desire to return to their homes.

"It should be understood by all that those center residents whom we will relocate fall into the same category as the returnees from the other eight centers—they are those persons of Japanese ancestry, citizen and alien, who have been carefully screened and whose names do not appear on the detention lists supplied to the War Relocation Authority by the Department of Justice.

"Persons whose names appear on the Department of Justice lists are not eligible to relocate and will remain in the custody of that agency pending decision as to their disposition.

"The relocation program which will be carried out between now and February 1 for the eligibles at Tule Lake will be the same program that was applied to residents of the other centers. They will receive exactly the same types of assistance that were offered at the other centers because they fall into the same category and have the same status."

Myer pointed out that although Tule Lake was designated as a "segregation center" late in 1943, the center has been actually both a relocation and segregation center because of the thousands of residents there, who, unlike the segregates, expressed no wish to be expatriated or repatriated.

Cabbage Heads

If cabbage heads in the garden show signs of splitting, pull each plant up an inch or so to disturb the roots. This retards growth and checks splitting. This should be done only when the heads are fully developed. The cabbage should be used before the edges of the wrapper leaves turn dry.

Hotel Income

In normal peacetime years food and liquor sales produced less hotel income than room rentals but the situation in the past two years has been reversed. Before the war food sales contributed approximately one-quarter of the industry's income, with liquor sales slightly less, but in wartime both divisions each have been each responsible for approximately 28 per cent.

Invention Incentive

Patents are granted as an incentive to invention and the public disclosure of new inventions. The word "patent" means "open," "disclosed." When an inventor is granted a patent he discloses his idea and an "open" record is made in the patent office. Copies are available to anyone at 10 cents each. This addition to man's knowledge of science and the useful arts spurs others to create and patent something better.

Preserves Tobacco

A slice of raw apple tucked in the top of a humidor keeps the tobacco supply sweet and moist over weeks of storage.

Darken Gravy

When making white gravy if you want to color it darker add one or two ginger snaps.

Calumet Council Holiday Festivity

At the regular meeting, Tuesday, December 11, Calumet Council No. 66, Degree of Pocahontas, it was announced that the next regular meeting, originally scheduled for December 25, had been postponed to January 8, 1946.

On that occasion a reception will be held for the past great Pocahontas, Florence Howatt who will attend as a representative of the great Pocahontas, Avis Churchill.

Tuesday's meeting was held in an atmosphere of holiday festivity. Following the business session, a delicious banquet was enjoyed by those present. The guests were seated at beautifully decorated tables; the place cards were cleverly contrived from paper napkins with Santa's jolly face predominating. A huge cake, emblazoned with Christmas greetings in red, white and blue, formed the centerpiece. Red candles in tall holders stood on either side of the cake, and through the center of the table were placed tiny churches and Christmas trees. The lights in the hall were dimmed, and the guests partook of friend chicken and all the trimmings, topped off with home-made cakes and coffee, by candlelight. A highlight of the evening was the exchange of Christmas gifts, and a general social visit among friends and neighbors, with holiday greetings adding a festive touch to the very pleasant meeting.

Label Wires Kill Trees

Countless young trees are killed each year by label wires. As the young tree grows the wire tightens and girdles it. This is particularly true where iron wire is used. Where young fruit trees were set out this fall and no attention was paid to the label wires, it will pay you to go over them now and see that the wires are not too tight. The proper way to handle the label is to tie the wire loosely on one of the branches, and not on the trunk.

Separating Lettuce

When lettuce heads are tight and whole leaves are difficult to obtain, cut the core out, turn the head upside down and allow cold water to run into the center of the head of lettuce until each leaf is separated.

Colma Loan Drive Gaining Slowly

John Ferrari, chairman of the Colma district Victory Loan Drive campaign, announced this week that sales in his territory are improving slowly, and that there is good indication that the quota will be met before the close of the drive.

Sales to date total $50,478.05, with those in series "E" being listed at $26,093.75. Colma's quota in this drive is $62,500, with a total of $12,021.95 yet to be reached.

Prevent Knife Breakage

Knife blades may break with sudden changes of temperature. Run cold water over a knife to chill it before slicing a brick of hard-frozen ice cream.

Navy Personnel Now Discharged

The following personnel from the Daly City area have been honorably discharged from the United States Navy as of December 10, from Camp Shoemaker, California.

Jefferson Thomas Burns, SC1/c, 6564 Mission street; and Alex J. McArthur, MM(S)2/c, of 526 Vista Grande avenue.

Salt Checks Fires

Common salt is still a favorite remedy for checking chimney fires. It is thrown on the fire in stove or furnace to smother the chimney blaze. Less soot will gather in pipes and chimney if dry fuel is used and fires are not checked too close to at night.

Healthy Scalp

For a healthy scalp and lustrous hair, beauticians still recommend the old-fashioned "forty strokes at bedtime" with a good hairbrush as the best beauty treatment. A shampoo is required every week or so, but brushing should be a daily habit—and, the experts add, with a clean brush. It is not enough to run a comb through the brush to remove hair. The hairbrush should be washed often with soap and water to cleanse the bristles and the frame which holds them. After a thorough sudsing, rinse the brush in clear water, tie a string around the handle and hang it to dry, preferably in the sun. Wash the comb, too, using rich, lukewarm suds.

German Wood Bullets

Wooden bullets, which the Germans are said to have used at Cherbourg when hard pressed for ammunition, and which they presumably might use again, are practically invisible in X-ray pictures of the wounds they make, Dr. Norman P. Henderson reports in the British Medical Journal. The wooden bullets, said to be effective up to about 100 yards, break on solid structures such as bone, and the scattered fragments are not likely to be located by X-rays.

Plastic Eye

Artificial eyes made of a water-clear plastic that can be tinted to duplicate every appearance of the natural eye now are being created by skilled technicians for the use of wounded veterans and soldiers inducted with glass eyes, it was announced by the war department. The new eyes duplicate in appearance the coloring of nature's own because every effort is made to construct them anatomically exactly like the natural eye. Each layer of color in the artificial eye—the iris, the pupil, the eye ball and the tiny network of red veins—is placed in the artificial substitute as nearly as possible as it occurs in a real eye ball.

Sewage Facilities

Additional sewerage or sewage treatment is needed at 13,915 of the 16,752 communities of all sizes in the United States, according to results of the national inventory of needs for sanitation facilities prepared by the sanitary engineers division of the U. S. public health service. Estimated total cost of the entire program, which includes new sewer systems, sewage treatment plants, and sewer extensions, amounts to $2,255,150,000.

Patching Wallpaper

In patching wallpaper, match the pattern, cut patch larger than damaged area, then tear edges of patch irregularly. Place patch face down on a piece of glass or other smooth surface and scrape the edges thin with a sharp knife or razor blade. When pasted in place the thin edges will blend with the paper on the wall, and will not be noticeable.

Mosquito Nests

An important measure farmers can take against the mosquito is to clean up their breeding places—fill in puddles and ditches near the house where there is standing water, remove all old cans and receptacles from the premises, that may catch rain water, put a screen or cover over the rain barrel, and correct any situation which might offer a breeding place.

Native Scurvy

South African natives develop scurvy quickly when they are transferred from their normal habitat to the living conditions of the white man in the course of expansion of industry and mining. The natives are only rarely subject to scurvy at home, it appears, although their diet is limited to maize and maize products, sour milk, and kaffir beer. It is the beer that protects them, as it is rich in vitamin C.

Large Republic

Third largest South American republic, Bolivia has an area of about 510,000 square miles. In this state—equal to the combined areas of Utah, Washington, Oregon, California and Nevada—live about 3,300,000 people, less than the population of Chicago. At least 80 per cent of the people live at altitudes of more than 10,000 feet.

Prevent Posts Rotting

Before fence posts or other wood material is sunk into the ground, the parts to remain below the surface should be thoroughly soaked in creosote or double-coated with this material. A coat of asphalt paint may then be applied. Such treatment will prevent rotting and destruction of the wood by insects.

Speed of Sound

The speed of sound in air is affected by temperature and pressure. At 20 degrees Centigrade (or normal temperature), pressure 1 atmosphere, the speed of sound is 1,129 feet per second. At zero degree Centigrade and pressure 1 atmosphere, sound travels at 1,088 feet per second. When pressure is increased to 25 atmosphere and temperature remains at zero degree Centigrade, the speed of sound is 1,089 feet per second, proving that the change in pressure does not affect the speed of sound as much as the change in temperature.

Use Green Ones

If some of your immature green tomatoes are caught by early frost you can make use of them by stewing, trying, broiling, scalloping or baking them. They require about 10 to 15 minutes longer cooking than ripe tomatoes, and they have better flavor if about one tablespoon of sugar is added for six medium-sized stewed or scalloped tomatoes. If you stew them, add onions and celery. If you bake them, stuff them with a bread dressing. You can combine them with meat or fish. Use your green frost-caught tomatoes generously for a new-tasting flavor.

Sugar Cane

Sugar cane requires a warm climate, good soil, and considerable moisture. Conditions in Cuba are excellent for economical production. The growing time is from 12 to 15 months, with replanting only every 5 to 20 years, depending on the fertility of the soil and the variety of cane.

Short Life of Auto Makes

More than 1,300 different makes of automobiles have come upon the scene in the course of the years only to pass on to oblivion. Of these only 29 are today included in the used car price lists. Eleven out of these 29 are numbered among the discontinued makes, leaving only 18 living names of automobiles today.

Bacteria Works Fast

Specialists of the department of agriculture point out that bacteria go to work just as soon as the milk reaches the pail. While the milk is warm, the bacteria multiply very rapidly. But as the milk becomes cooler they gradually slow down until at 45 or 50 degrees, they increase very slowly.

Food Values

Cheese and cottage cheese supply calcium, just as does milk; raw cabbage, green pepper and cauliflower are good sources of vitamin C just as orange juice and tomato juice; and fish, poultry and variety meats as liver, heart and sweetbreads, can substitute for meat.

Feed Lawn

Feed the lawn with a complete balanced plant food to provide nourishment for a sturdy top growth and extensive root development that will send your lawn into its winter dormant period more resistant to winter killing.

Drapery Pattern

In a room with figured walls, plain draperies look well, particularly if their color repeats a dominating color in the figure of the wallpaper or matches the background color of the wall.

Repairing Leaky Brick Walls

When a brick wall admits rain or moisture due to deterioration of the mortar, the defective mortar joints should be repointed. The entire wall then can be painted with waterproof paint for added security, plus appearance.

Extra Feeding

Cattle grazing on native ranges need supplemental feeding during the winter months to enable them to remain in good condition. Cottonseed cake or other proteins and cheap forages are recommended.

Mixture to Kill Flies

Sesame, from sesame oil, will not kill flies. Pyrethrum is effective in killing flies. Mix these two together and they kill more flies than pyrethrum alone.

Her partner wears a rugged beige togeroy sports jacket tailored on

Toxicity of Insecticides

Experience has shown that it is not possible to predict the toxicity of a compound to any insect on the basis of tests made against another insect. Progress in developing new insecticides would proceed much more rapidly if the initial testing could always be carried out on the specific insect to be controlled.

Appalachian in Rawlana

At one time North Carolina was known as Rawlana. The Appalachian mountain chain derives its name from a tribe of Indians once living in northern Florida.

Save Time and Labor

Time and labor are saved by increasing the yields and in improving the quality of crops.

Vanity Fatal

The Duke de La Rochefoucault, whose celebrated Maxims are exemplifications of the thesis that "vanity is the motive of all human actions," joined the revolt of the "Fronde," in which he lost the greater part of his fortune because his wife was not granted the "tabouret"—the privilege of sitting down in presence of the king and the queen.

Fleece Lining

Fleece lining of gloves will become soft and clean if properly washed. Turn gloves inside out and whip up dry suds. Use a toothbrush for chasing dirt from between fingers. Let the fleece dry thoroughly, away from direct heat. Then fluff up pile with a soft brush.

Zeppelin Center

Friedrichshafen rose to world significance in the early years of the present century as the headquarters of the Zeppelin industries, later to extend their activities to other German cities. As the designs of the airships were improved, the original floating sheds housing the craft on the lake were replaced with substantial shore shelters fringed with foundries, machine shops, fabricating plants, and office buildings. As airplanes became competitive, these craft, too, were manufactured at the Zeppelin industrial plants. Lake Constance proved an excellent testing space for the big Zeppelin-Dornier flying boats.

Price Inflation

Prices rose twice as fast after the armistice in World War I as during the war. For example, a 5-pound sack of potatoes increased 3½ cents during the war and an additional 35 cents in the year and 8 months following the armistice. Almost 40 per cent of the total price increase in the entire period of the last war came after the fighting was finished.

Estimating Straw in Stack

Straw in a stack may be estimated in tons by the following method: Multiply length by width at the base by one-fourth the distance over the stack, all dimensions expressed in feet. The overstack measurement is found by throwing a rope over the stack. Divide the result of multiplication by 600 if the stack is well settled, or by 650 to 700 if the stack is new or not well settled.

Conscientious Objectors

Conscientious objectors in the First World War totaled 3,989 in all camps, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica. Of these, 1,300 "accepted or were assigned to non-combatant service," 1,299 were furloughed for alternative service; and 450 were sent to prison by courts-martial. The remainder were still in camps when the armistice was signed.

Hanging Rayon

If a rayon garment is to be hung, it is better to hang it over the line so that the weight is even on both sides. Rolling it in a towel is more satisfactory than hanging it. If only a few rayon garments are being washed, this is easily done.

Asiatic Agriculture

Under the farming conditions of most of Asia, it requires four or five families living on the land to supply food for themselves and for one family living in a city.

Mends Rips

Tape mends rips in shower curtains. Regular adhesive tape will do for white opaque curtains; transparent tape is best for thin or colored ones. Tape also can be used to set in patches, which can be cut from bottom of curtain.

World's Largest Hatchery

According to the records of the USDA, the largest hatchery in the United States is at Vineland, N. J., where 1,500,000 eggs can be hatched at one time.

Nutrients of Spices

Most spices rate low in nutrients, but paprika and chili are reported to be exceptions. The former, a red spice from a mild-flavored pod pepper, rates high in vitamin A. Chili powder, now 10th on the list of spices, according to the amount consumed, also offers plenty of vitamin but lacks the C that is present in fresh and canned chili peppers.

Air Valves

Don't neglect to have worn out or obsolete air valves replaced on radiators of steam heating plants. Poor air valves are one of the most common causes of complaints about poor heating. It is a complaint that can be avoided if air valves are checked by a heating contractor once a year.

Bear Cubs

Bear cubs are usually born while the mother is sound asleep in winter hibernation.

Roaches Like to Hide

To combat the roach we must know something of its habits. They are nocturnal and go into hiding during the daylight hours. They prefer to hide in quiet, darkened and sheltered places. They hide near sinks, drainboards, behind wall cabinets, under loose door and window trim, cracks and holes in the walls, along water and steam pipes, beneath flooring, in wall spaces and in dark food storage rooms and bins. Knowing the hiding places of these pests, a permanent method of control is obtained by eliminating these hiding places by sealing the openings.

The Land of Little Sticks

The section of land on the western side of the Hudson bay was called by the Indians, "the land of little sticks," because of low forest growth.

Camouflage Fixture

Here's an idea for camouflaging a bedroom ceiling fixture. When you paint your ceiling paint over the ugly iron fixture. To replace the shade use a bridge lamp shade, invert it and screw it to the fixture. Fill the bottom opening with a piece of cardboard to match the lamp shade.

Check Cabbage Worms

Cabbage worms and cabbage loopers must be checked immediately. Up until the cabbage heads are four inches through, use paris green, calcium arsenate, and cryolite. As your cabbage gets to eating size, change to a rotenone-bearing dust. Collards, brussels sprouts, cauliflower, broccoli, and kale should be protected with the same dusts and sprays.

Forest Fire

More than 10 million acres of forest land burned in Florida in 1943.

NEW B. F. Goodrich PASSENGER TIRE OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES!

New Passenger Car Tire with Safer-driving, Longer-mileage features

New, better
Synthetic Rubber

Developed by B.F. Goodrich—it's far better than ordinary synthetic rubber. Helps the new tire run cooler, wear better. It resists cracking, bruising and damage from accidents better too.

New, "Road Level" Tread

55% stronger tire body makes possible tread with a flatter contour—its whole width touches the road. More rubber on the road to share the wear—evenly. The tread design has hundreds of skid-resisting curves to grip—and stop quickly!

16,800,000 Test Miles

Has more test background than any previous B. F. Goodrich tire. Extensive laboratory tests plus 16,800,000 miles of actual road tests—on taxi fleets, police cars, and the B.F. Goodrich test fleet—proved it outwears prewar, natural rubber tires!

3 years' EXTRA synthetic tire experience

Three full years before any other manufacturer, B. F. Goodrich sold tires made with synthetic rubber to American motorists. This extra store of experience shows up in extra mileage... extra safety... extra value.

Spot Removal

Spot removal for rayons sometimes has disastrous results because acetone, an ingredient of some commercial spot removing fluids, dissolves acetate rayon. In addition to removing the spot, acetone removes the fabric also. If the material is made of both regenerated and acetate rayon, a stiff spot will result, which soon cracks and makes a hole. It is important to know your cleaning fluid when working with rayon.

Fur Producer

Louisiana is one of the greatest producers of animal fur on the continent. Alaska, acknowledged to be one of the most important fur-producing regions, is a fairly good section to make comparisons. Alaska is one-thirteenth the size of Louisiana, yet the volume of marketable furs yielded in this state each year is three times that of the northern territory.
